

THOMAS WISE BIOGRAPHY

Thomas Wise has had an love for art since age 7. He continued to pursue art in High School majoring in art at the renowned McKinley Technical High School in Washington, D.C. After graduation, he attended the University of Maryland, College Park, majoring in Graphic Design, and studying under professors such as well known African American artist David Driskell. Thomas' paintings have been exhibited in solo, as well as group exhibitions in galleries, and the art house cafes in Washington, DC and Baltimore, Maryland, Alexandria, Virginia and Charlotte, North Carolina. In addition his works have been exhibited in, and purchased by corporate offices such as WSOC-TV Channel 9 and Optima Engineering in Charlotte, as well as corporate law firms, restaurants and prestigious firms in Washington, DC, and Charlotte, NC.

His work has been found in various retail art and framing galleries in Charlotte, Baltimore and Atlanta such as Frameworks, Rockville, Md., Tania's Art and Framing Gallery in Atlanta, Bomani Gallery in New Carrolton, Md., Beet Gallery, and The Art House in Charlotte, and Precious Treasures Gallery in Crystal City, Va.